

2026 MID-YEAR REVIEW

GENUINE HEALING FOR U.S. SPECIAL OPERATIONS FORCES

IMPACT REPORT

Q1 AND Q2 PROGRAM UPDATES

Your support has been truly transformative for Special Operations Forces (SOF) families in the first half of 2026. Through The Station Foundation's Homecoming and Interwoven Projects, you created eight programs in Montana and over a thousand moments of connection, healing, and hope across the country.

For SOF families navigating the invisible wounds of service and the weight of constant transitions, you provided something invaluable — the space to reset, reconnect, and rediscover their strength. This Impact Report shows you exactly what we built together.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

Mission-Aligned Partnerships

The Station's impact at Base Camp Jimmy extends through partnerships with veteran organizations serving the SOF community.

This year, Higher Ground returned for their annual ice-climbing adventure experience, helping SOF couples connect through physical challenge in the outdoors.

We also deepened our collaboration with The Arete Path on Rites of Passage — a warrior program rooted in ancient traditions and designed for modern transformation.

The Strength Of Special Ops Spouses

WATCH THE SPOUSE EXPERIENCE

In May, Oboz Footwear released a powerful short film capturing the heart of The Station's Spouse Performance Program — featuring SOF spouses as they connect, heal, and find strength in community at Base Camp Jimmy.

We are grateful to Oboz for their partnership in bringing these stories to life and showcasing how healing happens when spouses are provided with community and the support they need to thrive in this demanding lifestyle.

Growing Leaders, Growing Impact

As demand for The Station's services grows — including our newest outStation opening this fall in Fort Belvoir, VA — so does our investment in the professional development of spouse leaders.

These spouses complete up to 12 weeks of rigorous outStation training and earn certifications in Emotion Coaching and Gottman Level 1, then lead outreach support in their own communities.

This model puts certified spouses who know the SOF life best to deliver world-class care in their communities.

IN THEIR OWN WORDS

"I didn't realize how much I needed a space where I could simply be (for more than a weekend away); where I felt cared for, supported, and encouraged to be me! A complete nervous system reset!"

It felt like a quiet role reversal, in the best way. For a little while, I wasn't the one carrying the load at home. I left here feeling more grounded, more connected, and reignited the light within."

—SOF Spouse

"Working in the Special Operations community and as an aviator, I was trained to look for root causes. That's exactly why The Station Foundation's Emotion Coaching program landed for me."

It changed how I show up not just as a dad, but as a human being. I went in thinking it would help me connect better with my two boys — and it did. But what surprised me was how much it changed how I showed up for myself and for other people in my life."

THE WAY AHEAD

As we continue 2026, The Station remains committed to expanding our impact within the SOF community. In Q3 and Q4, we will host 8 programs at Base Camp Jimmy through our Homecoming and Legacy Projects. Our strategic priorities focus on enriching program quality, growing our nationwide reach through our Interwoven Project, and building sustainable partnerships that ensure long-term mission success.

We are honored to serve and walk alongside our SOF community, and we look forward to sharing more about The Station's 2026 impact in our End-of-Year Review.

If you are inspired to deepen your support, we invite you to reach out and explore how we can advance The Station's mission together.
